This is an office action for serial number 10/6477,690, entitled Artist's Easel, filed August 25, 2003.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

The following rejections are based on the subcombination of the easel alone.

Claims 12-14, 18, 19, and 20 are rejected under 35
U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by David 5,188,323 or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over David 5,188, 323. David discloses a vertical support member (Figure 2) including an interior cavity, a pulley system (figure 3), a horizontal support member (40), a pulley weight track (figure 7)
and pulley weight (meaning "overpowering force"), pulley rollers (41 and 60), ceiling bracket (11), floor bracket (31), and brake bracket (36 and 35).

Art Unit: 3632

Claims 18 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rohlfing 1,699,544 in view of David 5,188,323. Rohlfing discloses a vertical support means (41), a pulley weight track (between flanges of 41), a first and second pulley wheels tracks (outer surface of 41), a vertical translation means (90, 92, 83, and 89, see figure 2, 7, and 8) having a first and second pulley including rollers (90), weights (92), and wheels (69, 67), a horizontal support means (57 and 51), a floor bracket (33), a ceiling racket (47), a stabilizer plates (71), a brake bracket (near 76).

Claims 1, 2, 5, and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tolegian in view of Rohlfing 1,699,544, in further view of David 5,188,323 as discussed above. Tolegian discloses a vertical support means (18, 24, (part of 18 includes 28) and 10), a vertical translation means (36 and 37 and including 32 and 31), a horizontal support means (29 and 30), a first and second horizontal support members moved independently of one another (29 and 30), first and second wheels (32), a wheel track (28), a ceiling bracket (24), a floor bracket (12). Tolegian discloses all of the limitations of the claimed invention except for the first and second pulley. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have made the vertical support members including first and second pulleys, stabilizer plates and the horizontal members extending into the vertical members as taught by Rohlfing for the purpose of providing a better means of moving the horizontal members up and down the vertical members resulting in a smooth transition between positions. David teaches that it is known to have pulley systems completely within cavity wherein horizontal supports extend and move along vertical supports via the pulley within the cavity of the vertical support. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have modified Tolegian in view of Rohlfing to have included the pulley system completely within the hollow interior as taught by David for the purpose of preventing damage to the pulley system.

Allowable Subject Matter

The indicated allowability of claims 20 and 12-14 is withdrawn in view of the reference(s) to David. Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Claims 21 and 22 are allowed.

Claims 7-10, 15, and 17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 3632

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art does not disclose a first and second brake clamps that surrounds said first and second vertical support members and said first and second stabilizer plates respectively; a first pulley assembly includes first and second wheels positioned on opposite sides of said first horizontal support member, and an axle extending through said first and second wheels and said first horizontal support member; a third and fourth pulley assembly; a rail sleeve slidably mounted on said first horizontal support member and securing a first edge of an artist work piece.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed October 14, 2005 with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
